Invest in the Path Toward Well-Being

Outer Banks Health's next We Give campaign initiative—a walking path around our hospital campus—reflects our ongoing commitment to health and well-being for patients, team members and the broader community. This newly renovated and expanded area will offer a safe, scenic space for physical activity, connection with nature and improved campus accessibility, while enhancing the beauty and healing environment of the grounds.

We're also inviting community members, families and organizations to join us in creating a lasting legacy of health, connection and shared well-being on the Outer Banks.

Naming opportunities are available for a variety of spaces along the walking path:

Shade Structure at $5,000

Two Opportunities

- Prominent naming recognition on the shade structures located at the central gathering point along the path.
- Featured acknowledgment on Outer Banks Health's donor recognition materials, website and social media.
- Invitation to the ribbon-cutting ceremony and recognition at the dedication event.
- Option to include a personalized message or quote reflecting your commitment to well-being and longevity.
- Five (5) engraved pavers in the shaded area.

Well-Being & Longevity Signage at $2,500

Six Opportunities

- Individual recognition on beautifully designed signs placed along the path, each highlighting a well-being message or health tip.
- Inclusion in donor recognition materials and the Outer Banks Health website.
- Invitation to and recognition at the dedication event.
- Two (2) engraved pavers in the shaded area.

Path Benches or Birdhouses at $1,250
